Why have this document?

Capital Hockey has put together this document so that players wishing to participate in a Capital representative team know the costs up front and can budget accordingly.

How is this amount set?

During the overall budget preparations each individual campaign has a budget set. From this Capital Hockey can establish how much each campaign will cost and set the player fees accordingly. All campaigns have seen an increase in player fees over the past two seasons as the tournament structure has been changed by HNZ increasing travel costs. Wellington Hockey has previously subsidised these campaigns however this is no longer sustainable.

What does the player cost cover?

This amount covers the following costs associated with a representative campaign;

- Tournament Entry Fees
- National Tournament Van Rentals
- National Tournament Flights
- National Tournament Accommodation
- Turf Fees (Trainings, Official warm-up games and National Tournament)
- Travel and Accommodation costs for Capital Hockey appointed coaches, managers and videographer
- Physiotherapist for the campaign
- Team incidental costs for tournament
- Inter-regional travel of the squad members (entitlement outlined in the Capital Travel Policy)

Are there additional costs to being in a representative team?

The simple answer is yes. While the player cost covers all the of the direct expenses with attending National Tournament, Team Manager's will also invoice you for any costs not mentioned above. These include, but are not limited to;

- Food for National Tournament and quads
- Travel and accommodation for quads
- Any costs associated with additional games organised by the team

When must this be paid by?

The WHA Finance Officer will invoice players directly upon receipt of the team list. The full amount must be paid at least one week BEFORE the team begins their tournament. Capital Hockey understands that this is a lot of money to be a part of a representative team, so should this amount put too much financial strain on you or your family, please approach WHA at least four (4) weeks prior to your tournament to discuss a payment plan.
