

NERFU Division Director Job Description

New England Rugby maintains Division Directors at the Senior and College levels (complete list below). These Directors work closely with each level's Executive Director (Clubs and College), as well as the Executive Director for Sevens during that season.

A primary responsibility of the Division Directors is to develop a balanced schedule for teams within their division. Additionally, Division Directors serve as liaisons to and from the Executive Board, as well as any other governing bodies (Competitive Region committees, National Office staff, NSCRO, etc.). Division Directors also serve as advocates for the teams within their division, and to assist in their success and advancement.

Division Directors are expected to be present for all full Board meetings/conference calls, as well as at major events within the union, and in which team's within their division are hosting (playoffs, tournaments, AGM, etc.).
